

Laguna de Bay seen to ease Metro water crisis

Muntinlupa residents now using lake water

THE PUSANGKINANG Treatment Plant in Muntinlupa, is the first treatment plant to draw water from the Laguna Lake as an alternative source to Angat Dam.

The state-of-the-art treatment plant has 14 units of ultrafiltration, membrane and six reverse osmosis membranes for filtering contaminants from raw lake water.

It is owned and managed by MCI MFC Water Co. Inc., a joint venture between Metro Pacific Investments Corp.

AUTHORITIES and water distributors are considering tapping Laguna Lake and other new sources for the water needs of Metro Manila, which has been hit by rationing because of the very low level of Angat Dam, the metropolis' main source of drinking water.

LEARNER

WATER WORLD The Metro-Manila dries up as the fullness of Laguna de Bay. The 100-square-kilometer lake may be one of the answers to the critical water shortage affecting the metropolis. Maynilad, in fact, has started drawing water from Laguna lake for customers in Muntinlupa.

SC to hear 4-year-old Luisita case on Aug. 3

By Dana Z. Patawaran

AFTER FOUR YEARS on the back burner, the agitation to hear the case involving the nearly 5,000-hectare Hacienda Luisita owned by the family of President Aquino has suddenly become a priority case for the Supreme Court.

The high court yesterday transferred the case from the first division to the full court (en banc). And no less than Chief Justice Renato Corona called for oral arguments on Aug. 3, their next on-hair session.

Oral arguments before the high court are rare and are reserved for issues deemed of

THE COMMISSION on Elections (Comelec) disqualified a big businessman who wished to speak for small entrepreneurs, but ruled that a wealthy political action can represent marginalized security guards and tricycle drivers in the House of Representatives.

The Commission last April 4-5 to allow Juan Miguel "Mikey" Arroyo to represent the party-list group Ang Galing Pinoy, but Election Chair Jose Melo said the poll body's latest ruling and that no another party-list group, Ang Kasingap, were "unacceptable."

Election Commissioners Niccolato Ferrer, Leonardo Tagle, Elias Yusuph and Amador Velasco—all members of the second division except for Yusuph—approved Arroyo's assumption of office as the firm nature of a group that claims to speak for the goods and drivers.

Commissioners Giorgio Lantimad and Rene Sarmiento of the first division dissented, saying a "yes" vote would be a betrayal of the party-list law.

Melo did not take part in the voting.

Burma gets rare Asean straight talk on free polls

HANOI—Southeast Asian foreign ministers gave the military-run government of Burma (Myanmar) an "outfit" while demanding that it hold free and fair elections—a rare stand by the cautious group often accused of overlooking rights abuses in member nations.

Foreign ministers from the 10-member Association of Southeast Asian Nations (Asean) began their annual meeting on Tuesday in the Vietnamese capital of Hanoi to tackle a diverse agenda—from setting up a European-style economic community by 2015 to bolstering ties with the West and regional powerhouses China, Japan and India.

But at a dinner on the eve of the conference, Burma took center stage as diplomats vented their frustration about planned elections, which the

SC affirms sugar plantation under CARP

THE SUPREME COURT recently affirmed its 2007 ruling that sugar plantations are covered by the Comprehensive Agrarian Reform Law (RA No. 6660).

In a recent resolution issued on April 12, the high court on behalf of the majority ruled that the ruling that sugar plantations are covered by the law is correct.

Lebanon foils Gilas-RP five

Filipinos settle for 4th place

By Joseph M. Martinez

MANILA, Philippines—Lebanon gave Gilas-RP a surprise 1-0 victory in the second half to pull off a come-from-behind 73-62 victory and claim a second place in the Third Asian Women's Cup International Basketball Tournament here.

The Lebanese scored eight points in a decisive fourth and the Filipinos' offense stalled. Lebanon completed four consecutive 15-point runs, 20-30, to prevail.

Lebanon broke the score by 10-0 in the closing minutes in the second half while Gilas-RP, which trailed 62-50 in the closing minutes, struggled completely in defending the six and scored only 10 points during the stretch.

"The Filipinos were also really nervous all the time," said 27-year-old Lebanon's coach, a coach of Lebanon's national team.

"We controlled the game for four quarters, but by the end, we didn't control the defense and that decided the game," said coach Ghalib.

Lebanon's victory over the RP team is the first in the women's tournament.

"After Lebanon lost Lebanon," said Lebanon's coach.

Executive Summary
The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the physical fitness and performance of police officers. The study was conducted in a police academy in the United States. The participants were 40 police officers who were assigned to two groups: a control group and an experimental group. The control group received no training, while the experimental group received a 12-week training program. The training program consisted of cardiovascular, strength, and endurance exercises. The results of the study showed that the experimental group had significantly higher levels of physical fitness and performance than the control group at the end of the 12-week training program. The study also found that the training program had a positive effect on the officers' self-reported confidence and morale. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the physical fitness and performance of police officers.

Forex reserves seen exceeding $50B in 2010

By Michael V. Sison

THE COUNTRY'S foreign exchange reserves may exceed the $50-billion mark this year given the sustained inflows of dollars and other currencies in the past few months.

Reserve Bank of the Philippines Governor Amador Amador Jr. said this at the sidelines of the membership meeting of the Bankers Institute of the Philippines (BIP).

The central bank chief's forecast is better than the BIP's official gross international reserves projection of $45 billion to $50 billion for this year.

With RP on strong recovery mode, GIR has been setting new records

The BIP's projection rises into account the strong growth in remittance and inflows of foreign investments, especially portfolio assets.

With the global economic recovery after the slump last year, the Philippine GDP has been rising steadily and setting new records.

Earlier, the central bank reported that the GDP hit a new high of $98.1 billion as of end June. The amount was enough to cover for nine months worth of the country's imports and pay off $18 billion short-term debt.

The amount was higher than the $94.24 billion registered in end-June last year.

GDP, the total amount of services of foreign currencies, is the sole indicator of a country's ability to pay for imports and settle debts denominated in foreign currencies.

Monetary officials said Philippine average bonds continued to attract investments despite the impact of the Euro debt crisis on the credit standing of emerging economies. This, they said, was mainly because of the country's healthy level of foreign exchange reserves.

First Metro Investments Corp. said projected that the country's GDP would exceed its foreign currency-denominated debts within three years.

Data from the central bank showed that the country's outstanding debt denominated in foreign currencies stood at $50.1 billion as of end-2009.

Gov't raises P8.5B from T-bond sale

THE GOVERNMENT yesterday raised P8.5 billion from the sale of seven-year Treasury Bonds via its buyers sought to relieve money from circulating and a very liquid market.

Told at the seven-year Treasury Bids by 22.1 bids posted to an average of 6.000 percent in yesterday's auction.

Buyers finished the offer with tenders that reached a total of P13,529 billion—54 percent more than the available volume.

National Treasurer Roberto T. Tan said yesterday's results were due to strong liquidity in the market, as there would be P14.7 billion worth of government securities maturing within the week.

Of the full amount, P11.5 billion would be in Treasury and P3.2 billion would be in Treasury bills.

According to Tan, the success of the Treasury bill bid at this time accommodates most buyers through a tap or over-the-counter facility.

In at least two other auctions held before, the BIP used a tap facility to double the amount of tenders and strong demand for debt paper.

Yesterday, the Treasury chief said that there would be no need to do so again as the government had enough cash.

Aside from market liquidity, Tan attributed yesterday's results to results in the foreign-based or Philippine investors on heavy policy rates at historic levels, as well as low inflation rates.

Last week, the BIP's Monetary Board kept overnight borrowing rates at 4 percent and lending rates at 4 percent, both unchanged since December 2008.

Also, inflation as of June settled at 3.9 percent, putting average inflation in the first semester at 4.2 percent. The figure is well within monetary authorities' target range of between 2.5 percent and 4.5 percent for this year.

Listed firms doubled net profits in Q1

By Dennis C. Dandao

THE COUNTRY'S publicly listed companies have more than doubled their combined first-quarter net profits from that of a year ago, gaining from the stronger-than-expected domestic economic growth during the period.

In a study released on Tuesday, the Philippine Stock Exchange said the combined first-quarter net earnings of 222 firms listed on the bourse were up by 115.4 percent to P17.88 billion from that of a year ago.

Growth in net earnings was attributed to the improved performance of most sectors, which took up the slack registered in the last business, oil and telecommunications sub-sectors.

The first-quarter results reflected strong recovery of our listed companies under a more favorable economic environment. On top of gains recorded from asset sales, companies also benefited from increased demand and gains from foreign exchange appreciation and investments held during the first quarter," PSE chief operating officer Wilfredo Suarez said.

Consolidated revenues grew by 28.6 percent to P777.71 billion during the first quarter over a year ago.

Blue-chip companies that make up the main share Philippine Stock Exchange index also saw. Unilever reported a 30.4 percent consolidated growth in net earnings during the first quarter to P2.78 billion. This was on the back of a 27.65 percent rise in total revenues to P102.26 billion.

The PSE also said a total of 912 domestic companies recorded positive income figures in the first quarter while only 60 companies posted net losses. There are 230 companies listed on the local bourse, implying that 38.7 percent are profitable.

Combined net earnings of companies in the industrial sector topped by 294.3 percent to P60.55 billion led by First Philippine Holdings Corp.

BSP eyes investments other than securities

Break from risk-free instruments sought

By Michele Y. Rana

THE BSP's search for higher returns to fund part of its growing foreign exchange reserves is pushing it to consider alternatives other than the traditional government securities.

The central bank will likely be in the list of proposed amendments to its charter a provision that will allow it to invest in more loans, stocks and other income-producing activities, said BSP Governor Benito S. Aquino Jr.

Under the existing charter, the BSP can only invest part of its foreign currency reserves in publicly traded instruments like government securities, gold and bank deposits.

"[The BSP] will study what other kinds of investments can be done. Central banks of more conservative place usually in sovereign wealth funds which, in turn, invest in equities and even engage in project financing," Aquino said at the sidelines of a meeting among members of the business institute of the Philippines Inc.

There had been calls for developing Asian nations, including the Philippines, to consider investing part of their rising foreign currency reserves in more volatile investments to better improve their respective economies.

The Asian Development Bank, in a study published in August last year, said actively accumulating reserves would not be wise, citing low potential returns as a warning.

The ADB said that ideally the sources of foreign currency reserves should be equivalent to only five months of a country's import requirements. Anything higher than that could lead to current account imbalances, it explained.

"It makes little sense to invest excess reserves in risk and liquid but low-interest traditional reserve assets such as US government securities, insured money market securities should be managed more actively to maximize risk-adjusted returns," ADB said.

In the case of the Philippines, its gross international reserves (GIR) hit a new record of $38.4 billion in June. This was already equivalent to nine months worth of the country's import requirements.

According to Aquino's projections, the GIR should reach $50 billion by the end of the year.

The international Mon-

BENITO AQUINO

ney Fund officials said the same thing when it began developing countries to invest part of their reserves in productive activities instead of merely accumulating wealth.

"The way Asian countries moved [in the Asian financial crisis of the late 1990s] is to build up reserves," said economist Oliver Williamson, who served as vice president of the IMF. "But it is inefficient to store too much. It is better to use money in productive activities."

The BSP's position to invest a portion of its GIR in more productive industries is a scenario Aquino is not looking for. "It is up to the discretion of its foreign exchange reserves is reserved."

Keep your car shiny new

By Ricardo Sarmiento

WHILE love for cars is varying degrees, caring for our car mechanically helps ensure that we get to our destinations safely and efficiently. But we also want to show off our rarer? emotions, giving that shiny thing some love that's as much as possible, because as they say, cars are an extension of our self. With the onset of the rainy season, caring for our car's exterior becomes more difficult. Here are some tips to maintain it:

3.1 What is every day especially during the rainy season. Remold Tires of Mother's Car Care products ensure much that you clean your car as often as possible when driving through rain and other adverse weather conditions.

2.) Make sure the car is completely submerged in water—before doing anything, such as applying detergent or wiping it with a wet washcloth, and to mild derangement or worse. Any burning substance will be abrasive to the car's exterior paint finish, scratching it and causing various lines and swirl marks to appear. If the oil is completely detached in water, this minimizes foreign substances from deranging your car's clear coat or top coat, the car's most final level of protection.

3.) Mild is best. Most times of Big Bear's Crowding, the company's premier professional auto detailing outfit recommends that when washing your car with detergent, make sure you use the mildest detergent available. Use a wash water in a small bucket, get it as nearly flameless as you can with a soft-foam-cush or a microfiber washcloth. Wagner's detergent is a good all-around solution. But make sure you read the

Motorsports 101: Karting

By P' Juan
Feature Writing School

GETTING STARTED in Motorsports can be difficult because not only is it expensive but also dangerous. It is a hobby that's not for the faint of heart. But people with experience or go through proper training. To give people a better idea of what motorsports is really like, here is the list of a series of interviews to different motorsports in the country and how to get started in them.

History

Karting is known to be the home of karting with all the major manufacturers based there but karting actually originated from America. For several decades, it was predominantly a sport for those who enjoyed it as a recreational hobby, but the introduction of regulatory bodies helped it to open up to people who wanted to get a good education in motor sports.

It's known to have been the world's first Go Kart in 1916 in California. It was quickly caught on with facilities in many areas and stores across the US, although the quality of these varied a lot.

During the 1970s, today's modern Go Kart design came into force. The engines were at the side, rather than at the back of the Go Kart. Because of this, air cooling was more efficient, and there was more leg room. This breakthrough was the catalyst for the modern kart and kart engine are today.

By the 1980s, changes in design and the introduction of the first low regulatory body helped karting become the first step for aspiring racing drivers. Nowadays, the vast majority of racing drivers in Formula 1 and the lower formulae worked their way up from the karting circuit.

In the Philippines, karting was also very popular in the 70s but we only started our own international karting circuit in 1990. The Philippine Karting Club is now the best local karting track in the country, having been established and local kart races every year since its opening. Because of world-class facilities, it has become the home of aspiring race drivers.

Equipment needed

To get started in karting you would need a lot of gear.

Kart—The basic kart comes in two forms. One for kids aged 7-12 (Cater Kart) and one for adults (13 years old onwards (Full sized Kart). Many tracks are available to choose from but the most commonly found in the Philippines are the Yamaha, Honda and KTM. All are world class European brands with winning heritage and good in-sports support.

Engine—There are several engines to choose from and usually it is determined again by age. The Mini-Bike engine is used on the Cater Kart while the Yamaha KT and ROK 125 engines are used on the Full-sized karts. The Yamaha KT engine is a 1 liter 2 stroke engine which produces about 12.14 HP and is good for new drivers to the sport. The ROK 125 engine produces about 20 HP and is intended for more experienced drivers.

Driver Gear—The driver needs the basic safety gear like a full face helmet, adequate motion suit, gloves, shoes and a protective strap. It's important you buy the most expensive gear you can afford because in an accident you need the best protection possible. The most important of all being the helmet. The best locally available brand are OME (Spain), Bell and Arai.

Driver—You will also need to pick up a suit but with basic look and a good material. Most people drive their equipment up and down from the track or a trailer at the back of their pick ups. At some of the events you may rent your front gears which makes life a lot easier.

Local races and tracks

In the Philippines, there is a national race series which goes around on different tracks. These are Calabarzon Circuit, Cebu, Iloilo, Zamboanga, Manila, Mindanao, and National Circuit. The most important of all being the Calabarzon. The most important of all being the Calabarzon. The most important of all being the Calabarzon.

These races are sanctioned by the local regulatory body (National Association of the Philippines) and have been the winning stage for local drivers to compete. The races are on the weekends and are spread out about once a month starting in March. There are usually 3-5 races per season plus a few more weekend races the winner being determined from the last race which is the Grand Prix.

For any questions on how to get started in karting please feel free to email your questions to: info@philippinekarting.com or I will be at you at the track. Best wish: Drifting!

GM's Drive to 2030

See Young, Mary Ann

FOR GENERAL Motors, there is much to be feared that the world can look forward to.

At the height of a financial crisis last year, GM's survival was in jeopardy when it filed for bankruptcy just months after celebrating its 100th birthday anniversary. The automotive world plunged into a state of shock.

What followed was a series of plant shutdowns and streamlining programs which left the company's huge work force producing no income.

It needed quite a huge rescue for CM not to disappear into oblivion and get back on its feet, thanks to the full support it got from US president Barack Obama's administration with a rescue package worth billions of taxpayers' money.

Obtaining financial health may well be a work in progress, but GMA is facing the challenge headily and squarely with its network of strategic partners all over the world.

body because GM has gone so far in producing a revolutionary mobility and transportation concept called the Electric Networked Vehicle (ENV) seen to be entering by its made in the year 2020 when which can be produced in low income to cover about 40 percent of the world's estimated 6 billion people.

The E2-V has become one of the major attractions of the on-going Shanghai Motor Show in China and a source of additional pride for the GM-Shanghai Automotive Industry Corp. collaboration as the only automotive company in the blockbuster exhibition.

The concept car is one of the most significant results of GM's efforts to explore options and solutions for tomorrow's drivers confronted by traffic congestion, parking availability, air quality and affordability issues.

Merely one and a half metres long, the EHV is a two-wheeled vehicle weighing 500 kilograms and powered by lithium ion batteries that can travel about 80 kilometres on a single charge.

Compare this to the conventional car that is no lighter than 1,500 kilograms and is three times as long and you have a vehicle requiring no less than 30 square meters of parking space and parked more than 80 percent of the time.

Loading is an unnecessary process; a compact and sturdy 2-channeler E2 opens up more space at the parking lot as it can accommodate two items as many E2-As as typical automobiles.

To her vision of future-driving that is free from petroleum, free from restrictions, free from crashes, free from con-

Tony and Tes turn paper into lasting Pinoy art that's gone global

By [illegible] [illegible]

For the past several years, the art of paper folding has been a popular hobby in the Philippines. It is a simple yet creative way to spend time, and it has become a popular way to express one's creativity. The art of paper folding is a traditional craft that has been passed down from generation to generation.
